BULLETIN
(International News Service)
HALIFAX, N. S., July 12.—
Spurred by favorable weather conditions, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from here today on the third leg of their survey flight over north Atlantic aviation routes.

Their trim monoplane soared into the air at 11:17 a. m., bound for St. John's, Newfoundland. Their trip will take them as far as Greenland, and there is a possibility they may encounter the Italian air armada now flying to Labrador from Iceland, enroute to Chicago.

Weather Favorable.
Informed late last night of extremely favorable weather conditions along the Atlantic coast, Col. Lindbergh ordered his red-winged monoplane refueled immediately. This procedure, which the famous flyer personally supervised, took until nearly midnight, 1200 gallons of gasoline being poured into the tanks.
The colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh spent the night at the home of R.
S. Dunsmore, local superintendent of the Imperial Oil company.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Several weeks ago two boys were seen carrying a large home-made row boat down West Washington street. The boat had a "No Riders" sign on the front. Pa News yesterday saw a sequel to this in the shape of the young owner. A sign tacked on the rear read "This is for me only."
(11) Guess that's tellin' 'em.

One of the improvements of West Washington street district is to be seen at the former Cunningham estate property, now owned by Greenwood Cemetery Company. An immense flower bed forty feet in length and some ten feet in width in which the plants spill out in bold relief the word Greenwood, has been placed on the hillside and had added much to the general appearance of the district.

Eighty eight men of 200 called worked last week on the work relief program according to the city solicitor's department.

Cascade park attendants said today that about 150 persons enjoyed breakfast in the grove today. With each succeeding day the breakfasters grow in number. Among those there this morning were members of the Ellwood City Business and Professional Women club.

BOYS ARRIVE FOR CAMP YOHE VISIT

A party of sons of P. & L. E. railroad employees arrived in New Cas-

Hold Auto Driver For Grand Jury After Crash Probe

Fatal Accident On The West
Pittsburg Road July 4
Probed By Coroner

John Krupa Held For Court
As Result Of Testimony Given

John Krupa, of Rear 11 West Terrace avenue, was held for court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter by Alderman James C. Brice in connection with the death of William Pres-nar, who died following a crash on the West Pittsburg road on the evening of July 4, when the car which Krupa was driving collided with a telephone pole.
The information was filed by Highway Patrolman W. E.
Stoops, after the coroner's jury, which heard the case in Alderman Brice's courtroom recommended that he be held for the action of the grand jury.

According to the evidence as presented before Coroner Orville Potter, Krupa had several drinks, just prior to the accident and had collided with a truck before the fatal accident, although the evidence in this regard seemed somewhat hazy on the part of Krupa and the other witnesses in the case.

Accident Occurred on Fourth Presnar was injured on the evening of July 4, and died early on the morning of July 5 in the New Castle hospital. In the same accident, Stanley Sokolski, of 1709 South Jefferson street was terribly injured and has lain at the point of death in the New Castle hospital since that time. His condition has improved very little since the night of the accident, it is stated.

Krupa, driver of the death car is a married man. He was driving the machine of his brother Alex Krupa and had no license to operate a car, he admitted on the witness stand.

Farmhand Being Hunted In Death Of Young Woman

Police Of Three States Hunting Alleged Slayer Of Woman, Body Found In River

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., July 12.—
Police of three states today sought Robert Hudgerboom, an itinerant farmhand, of Schickshinny, Pa., after the nude body of a 19-year-old girl was found in the Delaware river near here, was identified as that of Mrs. Orville Fland, also known by her maiden name of Pauline Bennett, of Vestal, N. Y., near Ben-hamton.

New York state police informed Wilmington authorities that Hudgerboom, whose right name is believed to be Hackenbush, was discharged by the young woman's father because of his attentions to Mrs. Fl-land. They said the girl left the farm early in May presumably to find Hudgerboom and elope with him.

Fire Destroys Barn And Crops

Loss Of $3,000 Sustained In Fire Late This Morning
On Old Lutton Farm

FARM IMPLEMENTS ARE LOST IN BLAZE

Fire, which is believed to have resulted from spontaneous ignition of new hay, destroyed a large barn and the tool shed adjoining, on the farm of Mike Dicks, near the old Five-Point School in Shenango township at 11 o'clock this morning. The loss will be around $3,000, partly covered by insurance.

When the fire was first discovered, it was noticed near the roof of the barn, strengthening the belief that it resulted from spontaneous ignition of the hay, as the mow had just recently been filled.

All the farming implements were stored in the tool shed, adjoining the barn, making Mr. Dicks' loss, more severe.

It was impossible to save anything, the fire burning with such rapidity, that when neighbors arrived on the scene, they were forced to stand by. No stock was lost in the blaze.

The farm, occupied by Mr. Dicks, is known as the old Lutton farm.
About a year ago, the house was destroyed by fire.

Potters Make Request Today To Roosevelt

Ask For Higher Tariffs Or Partial Embargo On Imported Pottery

(International News Service)
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 12.—
Higher tariffs or a partial embargo on imported pottery were urged today in an appeal sent to President Roosevelt by the United States Potters' Association.

The move was made so that wage increases may be given 15,000 skilled and unskilled ceramic workers.
Petitions asking for the new tariff scale or possible embargo were filed with Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the national industrial recovery act, and contained a request to make the minimum wage for unskilled workers 31 1/2 cents an hour.

In order to fill this increase it is felt that a tariff wall must be established to prevent competition from imported wares made in foreign countries where cheap labor is available.

Kidnaped Youth Will Be Returned Shortly Is Belief

Ransom Negotiations For

At Albany

MAKE CONTACT

Alton, Ill., Banker Is Still

ALBANY, July 12.—For the first time since the kidnaping five days ago of 24-year-old John J. O'Connell, Jr., members of the politically powerful O'Connell family of Albany, admitted privately to close friends today they were confident the missing youth would be returned soon—safe and un-harmful.

Reports were widely circulated that young O'Connell, who is being held for $250,000 ransom, would be returned within twenty-four hours
—possibly sooner.

Negotiations On.
Negotiations with the kidnapers were reported shortly before noon to be progressing satisfactorily, although neither the police nor the O'Connell family would formally admit that a definite contact had been established.

There were rumors that the ransom price has been cut down to $100,000 or less. It was said that one name in the second list of eleven possible intermediaries submitted by Daniel P. O'Connell, uncle of the victim, was satisfactory to the kidnapers. This intermediary is believed to be either Paul Carroll, former roadhouse proprietor, or Dave Hotelling, a young business man.

Speculation was aroused when Daniel P. O'Connell, prominent politician and uncle of the missing youth, left his home this morning by automobile presumably for his camp at Heidelberg Mountain, 28 miles south of here. It was reported

Erie To Relocate Its Freight Depot

Plan To Alter Old P. & L. E.
Station For Use—Moving
August 1

The Erie railroad, through Freight Agent W. A. Bowers, announced today that it would remodel its West Washington street station, formerly used as a passenger depot for the P. & L. E., and convert it into a freight office again. The depot will be opened about August 1.

The Erie's headquarters for some years have been located over the
P. & L. E. freight office on Grove street.

The old station was used by the Erie as its freight station before the Lake Erie leased it for a passenger depot.

Alterations, it is estimated, will involve an expenditure of $600.

USES "INHERITANCE STORY" ONCE TOO OFTEN

McKeesport Man Taken By Police

Made Claims Of Being Heir To Fortune Of Some $90,000

PASSES CHECKS FOR SUM OF $3000

(International News Service)
McKEESPORT, Pa., July 12—There was a noticeable change today in the status of Leonard Urban, 30, of McKeesport. Instead of being a newly wedded and happy husband, Urban was a prisoner in the local lock up—and all because he used his "inheritance story" once too often.

Urban faces charges of passing more than $3,000 worth of cash checks.

Arrested At Uniontown

He was arrested at Uniontown when he and his prospective bride, Betty Kerston, 24, of McKeesport, arrived at the home of a minister to be married. The minister had conversed with Urban several hours before and listened to Urban's reputed claims to being the sole heir to a $90,000 fortune.

According to police, Urban had been "cashing in" on the narrative, and decided to try it on the cleric. He is alleged to have asked for several days trust until the "estate" was settled.

His suspicion aroused, the minister told the couple to return in a short while. Police were notified and nabbed Urban when he came back.

It was said Urban married a Homestead Park girl several years ago "on the same line."

ter. He testified that he had been called to attend Presnar on the evening of July 4 and found that he had sustained a fracture at the base of the skull, fracture of the jaw, and had the right side of his throat torn out by the impact of the collision. Either the injury to his throat or the fracture to the skull would have been sufficient to cause death, Dr. Popp stated.

Walter Casimir, of 35 Elmwood avenue was the next witness called. Casimir stated that he had been with the dead youth and several of the others in the party on the afternoon of the Fourth.

Drank At Picnic

About 4 o'clock, they went to Miller avenue, where they joined a group who were leaving for a picnic at Mt. Jackson. They stayed in that vicinity until 5:45, when they left in a machine for Mt. Jackson. After they arrived there, Casimir stated that they bought a pop bottle filled with liquor and all drank it. The others in the party were Jack Krupa, Bill Presnar, Stan Sokolski and Chester Mateja.

It was after six o'clock at this time and about an hour later, they returned to town, bringing in a man who had to go to work. They went to the home of Krupa on Terrace avenue and later started for the picnic again. Three in the party had a drink of beer, he stated. The return trip was made via the West Pittsburgh road.

He recalled the attempt of Krupa to pass a machine on the road, which ended in the cars colliding and the machine in which they were riding colliding with a telephone pole. A truck came along and the injured youths were placed in it and taken to the New Castle hospital. Casimir stated that he had told the whole story but when Coroner Potter asked him if the man whom they had brought from Mt. Jackson had not given them liquor to drink, he recalled that he had. He stated that it was in payment for bringing him into town.

McIntire Testifies

Charles McIntire, of Righb P. O., told of proceeding along the West Pittsburgh road on the evening of July 4, when a car approached him from the rear, giving no signal of its intention to pass. The first thing he knew, he felt the bump of a collision, and a machine whirled around him and he went off the road, bringing up against a telephone pole with terrific force.

His machine was traveling at a rate of approximately 25 miles per hour at the time and the other machine was going much faster. As soon as he was able, he stopped, and got out, but his wife swooned and he had to take care of her and his children and mother, so that he was unable to render much assistance.

Another machine and truck came along and the injured were sent in to the hospital, he stated.

Mrs. Charles McIntire, told the same story as her husband.

Chester Mateja, of 13 Maple street told practically the same story as Casimir. He said that after they had gotten into New Castle from the picnic they went to a place on Charles street, where the man they had brought in from Mt. Jackson, treated them. They had a little bit of liquor left in the bottle and they killed it, he stated, after which they decided to go back to the picnic. Krupa had come in to try and get some money from his mother with which to dance at the picnic as they had spent what little money they had for liquor.

Start Back To Picnic

They got Sokolski and Krupa and started back for the picnic grounds. Before they reached the McIntire machine, they sideswiped a truck, Mateja stated, although he did not know whose it was. They then hit the McIntire car and went off the road as previously testified to.

H. M. Tyrell, who lives about 300 feet away from the scene of the accident on the West Pittsburgh road, told of seeing the machine approach and collide. Two other cars had come around the bend in a similar manner only a minute before and he had remarked to his wife that if they had come together that a bad accident might have resulted. Just as he was speaking, the collision occurred and he called to his wife to look.

There were no other machines in sight at the time, he stated.

W. E. Stoops, of the state highway patrol, told of being called to the scene of the accident about 9:15 in the evening, some little time after it had occurred. When he arrived, he found the automobile of Krupa against the telephone pole, with the right side torn off. There was quite a bit of traffic congestion at the point and he had the damaged machine removed.

On the way to the hospital, he met the driver, who was in the custody of the police. He talked to him at the hospital where young Krupa had told him that the steering wheel had locked and he was unable to guide the machine. He said Krupa had admitted to him that he had been drinking and that he was aware of the fact.

Krupa had no driver's license no stated, and he had preferred an information against him for the violation of the motor code.

Krupa Tells Story

John Krupa was called by Coroner Potter, and told of the events leading up to the accident, which corresponded to the story told by the other two youths. He said that they had ridden out to the picnic with a Greek man. At Mt. Jackson he said he had a drink out of a bottle. His brother was playing in the orchestra at the dance and he took his car and started for town to try and get some money from his mother so he could dance. They picked up a man who wanted to come to town to go to work, and he said he would set up the drinks for them for bringing him in.

After that he said he had gone to the home of a brother or his brother-in-law and returning home found the other boys waiting for him. They then started back to the picnic. He said that enroute to Mt. Jackson, on the West Pittsburgh road, that he had sideswiped a truck which was coming towards New Castle, his car brushing the machine on the left side of his car, causing a small amount of damage.

This caused him to lose control, if the machine as the steering wheel had locked. He didn't recollect seeing or hitting McIntire's car he stated.

He admitted that he had no license to drive a machine, but had one last year. He said that he was going about 35 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

The jury then retired and brought in a verdict in which they stated that they felt Presnar's death was due to the careless operation of the car by Krupa and recommended that he be held for the action of the grand jury.

The jury was composed of G. J. Forrest, W. D. Marshall, C. E. Allen, Percy G. Howell, Stanley Weir and John J. Dougherty.

Information charging involuntary manslaughter was preferred against Krupa by Patrolman Stoops, following the finding and he was held for court by Alderman Brice.

Fear Banker Is Dead

ALTON, Ill., July 12—The wife and sons of August Luer, 78-year-old millionaire banker seized by kidnappers at his home here Monday night, were fearful today that they would never see him alive.

Even with conditions most favorable, physicians have had difficulty of late, allying the aged banker's recurrent heart attacks.

His son, Carl, stated frankly today that if his father suffers an attack while in the hands of the kidnapers, it is doubtful if he will survive.

Meanwhile, members of the family, the banker's aged wife and his three sons, maintained a constant vigil at their homes as they awaited a ransom demand from the abductors.

Police were of the opinion Luer was taken to either the gangster-infested territory across the Mississippi river from St. Louis, or to the sparsely settled and heavily wooded section where the Missouri and Illinois rivers converge, near Grafton, Ill.

Delay Allocating Of Huge Amount To Highways Of State

Pinchot's Absence Delays Allocating Of $51,000,000 According To Lewis

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 12—Samuel S. Lewis, secretary of highways, announced today that allocation of $51,000,000 for highway construction and maintenance during the biennium has been postponed temporarily because of Gov. Gifford Pinchot's absence.

Lewis' conference with the governor regarding the allocations yesterday was cancelled when the chief executive departed for Mt. Gretna. He took all data submitted by highway officials with him for study. The governor was to be in Philadelphia today and from there he was to go to Washington.

Approximately $18,891,000 of the $51,000,000 will come from the federal government, and the remainder will be taken from the state motor fund.

At least three programs drafted by highway officials have been scrapped because they did not meet with the approval of Governor Pinchot. Before specific projects, which are to be built with federal funds, are announced, they must have the approval of the United States bureau of roads.

Alvanley Johnston Renamed By Brotherhood Of Locomotive Engineers

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, July 12.—Polling 503 of the 893 votes cast, Alvanley Johnston today was re-elected grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at the seventh triennial convention of the organization here. His term will run three years.

It is believed that conditions will continue to improve during the summer, and checkups are now being made to ascertain what the prospects for employment are for persons on the relief rolls. Reports have come to the relief department that there are some on the list who are perfectly contented to receive aid, and are not making any particular effort to secure employment.

Storm Damage In Iowa Region

(International News Service)
ODEBOLT, Ia., July 12—One death, injury of three persons and damage estimated at $200,000 were counted today in the wake of a wind hail, and rain storm which swept west Central Iowa late yesterday.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 12—Battered cornfields bore witness today to the violence of the wind and hail storm that swept across Eastern Nebraska from north to south last night, leaving one dead and causing crop and property damage.

Arnold Bonertz, young Cedar county farmer, was crushed to death when his barn was felled by the 50-mile-an-hour wind.

State Emergency Relief Board Will Meet For First Time Since Its Existence

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 12—The state emergency relief board for the first time in its existence will meet outside of Harrisburg today when it convenes here at the invitation of the Philadelphia County Relief Board.

The state board, which is comprised of Gov. Gifford Pinchot, Rep., Grover C. Talbot, Lieutenant Governor Governor Edward C. Shannon, State Treasurer Charles A. Waters and Erie Biddle executive director, will inspect the administration system of the Philadelphia board.

Cole Tells Kiwanis Of Bike Trip West, Started Year Ago

Jack Cole, who "biked" his way to Los Angeles and back in 47 days last summer, gave a humorous recital of his road experiences at today's luncheon of the Kiwanis club. He also exhibited cartoons he has sketched which more realistically bring to a point many of the tales he told. It was on July 12, 1932 that he began the trip.

Cole was introduced by D. J. Reebel, chairman of the Kiwanis club's program committee.

Guests for dinner today were Charles McGrath and DeLace Cole, the young speaker's father.

Better Conditions In New Castle And Ellwood City Aid Poor Board

Reflecting improved employment conditions, there has been a considerable falling off in relief orders at the county poor department, according to County Commissioners Elmer Conners. This applies both to New Castle and Ellwood City as well as some other sections of the county, notable Wampum and the Hillsville district.

It is believed that conditions will continue to improve during the summer, and checkups are now being made to ascertain what the prospects for employment are for persons on the relief rolls. Reports have come to the relief department that there are some on the list who are perfectly contented to receive aid, and are not making any particular effort to secure employment.

BREAKFAST HONORS ELIZABETH ECKLES

Mrs. Fred E. Smith, Hillcrest avenue, entertained a group in her home Tuesday morning at a beautifully appointed breakfast in honor of Miss Elizabeth Eckles, a bride-elect, the occasion also being in celebration of the anniversary of her birth.

A color scheme of yellow and white was used in all appointments. A "travel menu" was served in a unique manner, each course being enjoyed in the different rooms of the house and front veranda. At the close of this feature, a delivery boy from a local dry goods store knocked upon the door and delivered a huge package to the honored guest. Beautiful gifts of pewter, silver and aluminum from each in attendance.

Mrs. Smith had as her aides her daughter Lois Marion and Lois Mae Curry.

Conversation filled the remainder of the morning and Miss Eckles announced that she had chosen Tuesday morning, July 18, as the date of her marriage to Henry Franklin Brown of Syracuse, N. Y. The event will take place in Highland United Presbyterian church at 11 a. m.

SPOON CLUB MEMBERS MEET AT FIELD CLUB

Plans are complete for the Spoon club members to hold their meeting on Friday afternoon at the New Castle Field club. The occasion will be in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon, all reservations being called in to the club by Thursday noon.

Beryl Morgan Honored.
Mrs. Lewis Morgan entertained a number of boys and girls in her home at 112 South Crawford avenue Saturday from the hours of 7:30 to 9:30 in celebration of the 11th birthday anniversary of her daughter Beryl.

Games and music comprised the program of entertainment and prizes were won by Earl Parkinson and Virginia Pence. The table was beautifully decorated with a large birthday cake gracing the center. Pink and white tones prevailed throughout. In serving a dainty lunch Mrs. Morgan was assisted by her daughter Leanna and sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Pence, who is visiting from Buffalo, N. Y.

The guest list included Jean Dufford, Clyde Tindall, Charles Pheron, Earl Parkinson, Virginia Pence, Marian - aghes, Homer James, Fred James, Jess Dufford, Jr., Phyllis James, Leanna Morgan and Beryl Morgan, who was the recipient of a collection of lovely remembrances.

Here For Summer.

Mrs. James Fleming, who resides in Santa Ana, California, has arrived in this city to spend the remainder of the summer with relatives in this city. Mrs. Fleming is a former New Castle resident and has many friends here. She made the trip from the coast with Mrs. Margaret McKee, who is also visiting local relatives.

GENEVA TEACHERS PICNIC OUTING

Twenty-six from Geneva College taking practicing teaching in the elementary grades at Beaver Falls on Monday motored to Lakewood Beach where they enjoyed a picnic outing. Swimming, canoeing and mushball formed the diversions of the early hours. At 6 o'clock an appetizing dinner was served by the committee in charge.

Prof. J. Newpher, Prof. J. C. Twinen and Harold Traister, the latter director of elementary work in Beaver Falls accompanied the group as special guests.

DANCE SATURDAY EVE AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

On Saturday evening of this week there will be another of the dance series held at the New Castle Field Club for its membership and guests. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock. It is expected many of the college students home for vacation will participate on this occasion.

Entertains For Bride

Mrs. Joseph Dess, Delaware avenue, entertained at a pretty party Tuesday evening in her home in honor of Mrs. Edward Dess, a bride of recent date, who was formerly Florence Benedict.

Cards were the diversion of the evening and when play was concluded prizes were awarded Marguerite Benedict, Mrs. Paul Duff and Sarah Thomas. The small tables were prettily appointed in green and white when the hostess, assisted by Miss Benedict, served an appetizing lunch.

The hostess presented the bride and the bride-elect, Miss Marguerite Benedict, whose marriage to Bernard Dess, Jr., will be a late summer event, with lovely gifts.

Those in the group were Mrs. Edward Dess, Mrs. Paul Dufford, Mrs. Edwin Frey, Mrs. Albert Jenks, Jr.; Mrs. A. R. Kellner, Marguerite Benedict, Adelaide Frey, Wanda Khorska, Mrs. Carl Schweikert, Sarah Thomas and the hostess.

Tuesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. John M. Butler of Wallace avenue entertained the Tuesday Bridge club at her summer home, "Twin Sycamores," East Brook road, Tuesday at a chicken dinner.

Bridge was in play during the afternoon hours, with honors going to Mrs. Theresa Wright and Mrs. Joseph Lindsay. The guest prize was given to Mrs. Ed Chapman.

Special guests included Mrs. Ed Chapman, Mrs. Ivan Holsinger, Miss Marjorie Moser, Mrs. Margaret Snyder, June and Jane Shalstead.

A breakfast is being planned to take place in two weeks at a roadside inn a short distance from New Castle.

Field Club Bridge Hosts

Those who will preside as hosts over the bi-weekly evening bridge at the Field Club house on Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. James B. Matthews. Play is to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

FIVE-W-CLUB ENJOYS PICNIC AT LAKEWOOD

Mrs. C. E. Kennedy entertained her associates of the Five-W-club at her Lakewood home Tuesday evening and as a special guest had Mrs. Naomi Searer.

The occasion was in the form of a 6:30 o'clock picnic dinner with the menu being served at tables arranged on the lawn. A bouquet of flowers centered the table. At the close of this feature, Mrs. Florence Scott Winter, a bride of May 30 was honored with a shower when she was presented with a remembrance from the club.

Cards, swimming and other diversions filled in the balance of the evening.

In three weeks a picnic outing will be held at Cascade park.

D. U. V. Meeting

The members of the Eliza Winans McBride Tent 20 of the Daughters of Union Veterans met Tuesday evening in the City hall for a business session and plans were made for joining with the Sons of Union Veterans in a picnic outing.

Mrs. Maude Fisher was named as general chairman for the reception to be given in honor of Department Commander A. T. Anderson of Worthington, who will visit here soon.

Mrs. Minnie Kaufmann, Mrs. Rebecca McKissick and Mrs. Lucy Pettitt were named department aides for the coming year. Mrs. Esther Pritchard of Tent 23, Sharon, was a special guest.

At the close of business a novel musical program was presented by the Hilber brothers and Master James Pritchard, accompanied by his mother. After a period of group singing the group was escorted to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served at prettily appointed tables by Mrs. Lauretta Hoon, Mrs. Mary Meyer, Mrs. Maude Fisher, Mrs. Jessie Crooks, Mrs. Emma McKissick and Miss Anna Rae.

Jollikousins Club

The Jollikousins Club were guests Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Letha Bishop on Bell avenue. Cards and chat filled in the leisure time and lovely prizes were awarded to Geraldine McClelland and Mrs. Twila Miller at the close of play.

Later, they assisted the hostess in serving a delicious chicken dinner at a table beautifully appointed.

Plans were completed for a picnic supper to be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Gladys Pulford on Woodlawn avenue.

NAOMI CIRCLE TREASURE HUNT

The Naomi Circle of the Highland United Presbyterian church entertained the members and friends Tuesday evening at an interesting "Treasure Hunt" program.

Group singing opened the program, with Vernon Benschoff as leader and a feature of this was the singing of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," by the grandmothers in the audience.

Rev. D. L. Ferguson and R. E. Johns pleased with several duet numbers and there were amusing and entertaining readings by Elizabeth Milholland and Betty Reed.

When the program was finished a procession was formed and as "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung all marched around the church and deposited their "Treasure Envelopes" in a large urn.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. M. Wallace, Mrs. R. C. Cline, Mrs. Gayle Blim and Mrs. Harry McPeaters.

Mt. Jackson Class Picnic.

The Every Day Practice Sunday school class of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church taught by Mrs. Ransom Barris held a picnic outing Tuesday at Thompson's grove. Twenty-three were present from the class and the following special guests: Mrs. Barris, Mrs. Howard Chambers, Mrs. John Douglass, Mrs. Howard Bair, Mrs. W. S. Caskey and Mrs. Jerome Daugherty. Others from New Castle and Struthers, O., included Mary Daugherty, Mrs. Harold Hartzell, Marian Wallace, Alice McConnell, Clara Jane Smith and Grace Eaton.

Swimming was enjoyed as the main feature and other events of a sports nature as well. A delicious dinner was served at the appointed hour by those in charge.

Americanization Meet.

Tuesday evening the members of the Americanization society of the Neighborhood House met in the home of Mrs. Josephine Kison on North Mercer street with A. A. Webb as presiding officer.

Plans were made for the summer work of the organization and tentative plans for fall work, when the members convene again in September. Miss Christine Butler, welfare worker, gave a splendid report of the spiritual work being carried on in the Sunday school and of her visits in the homes of the district where the Neighborhood House is situated.

S. of D. Picnic

Picnics galore have been the order at Cascade park and among those Tuesday was that of the S. of D. society of the Central Presbyterian church when places were arranged for twenty five at one of the long tables in the grove.

Mrs. Thomas Kennedy and Mrs. Sol Festoso were in charge of the arrangements. Plans were made to have the August meeting in the form of a picnic for the families at Cascade.

Picnic Plans Complete

Mrs. Henry Jackson and Mrs. Ray Rhodes have all plans completed for the family picnic of the Baldwin Bible Class and Baird Missionary Society of the Highland United Presbyterian church, which will be held Friday afternoon and evening in the grove at Cascade Park.

A program of sports and swimming has been arranged and it is expected that about two hundred will be in attendance.

Dinner is scheduled to be served at 6 o'clock.

Lawrence School Committee

There will be a meeting of importance of the Lawrence County School reunion committee held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. E. L. Young, East Washington street.

North Beaver Garden Club

The North Beaver Garden Club members will meet this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Leslie who reside near Mt. Jackson.

PAUL WHITEMAN IN PERSON TO BE HERE

Paul Whiteman, "the King of Jazz," the most famous bandmaster in the world, is coming to New Castle. Not in motion pictures, not on the radio, but in person, with his band and a group of entertainers B. J. Blonid, in charge of Rainbow Terrace at Cascade Park, announced today that Whiteman and his band would be at Rainbow Terrace Tuesday night, July 25, and that Whiteman would direct the band himself, all evening. In addition, Peggy Healy, famous radio star, will appear; Ramona, pianist and singer; the Rhythm Boys, Jack Fulton, nationally known tenor; Goldie, the trumpet clown, and Mike Pingatore, world's best banjo player, will all make personal appearances. It's a great break for New Castle dance lovers. Never before has anything like it been in New Castle. Rainbow Terrace should be jammed to the walls July 25. The price has been cut to the bone, one dollar ten per person, including tax. Remember the date and dance with the "King of Jazz." Space is limited and you had better get your tickets early.

BAPTISTS PLAN PICNIC OUTING

What promises to be one of the biggest picnic outings of the week at Cascade park is that of the First Baptist Sunday school when they get together Thursday, July 13.

Mrs. W. O. Williams and her class are in charge of the menu and it promises to be elaborate; Irene Perry, Julia Zoltan and Mrs. Germack will preside over the making of the lemonade; D. S. Williams will see to it that there is fun galore for old and young.

Paul Fombelle is handling the transportation problem and the sports have been arranged by Adrian Heaton, Thomas Arthrell, Dan Williams, Ralph Hay and Stanley Davis.

B. F. Johnson's class will back up their challenge to defeat George Fox's, Roy Martin's and Hugh Sturdy's classes at Mushball.

Dinner is scheduled for 6 o'clock.

Lockhart Class Outing

Members of the John P. Lockhart class of the First United Presbyterian church and their families had a picnic outing Tuesday evening at Cascade Park, with Mrs. E. G. Bolars, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Machin and Mrs. Harry Dinsmore as hostesses.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Evans of New Jersey and Miss Newell of Ambridge.

August 8 the class will have its monthly meeting in the form of a picnic at Cascade Park.

Dorcas Class Picnics.

Places were arranged about flower bedecked tables in the grove at Cascade park Tuesday evening when the members of the Dorcas class of the Epworth Methodist church, taught by Mrs. D. T. McConahy, had a picnic outing.

Places were arranged for 55 and a most delicious menu was served. Mrs. Norman Clark and Mrs. L. R. Reed were in charge of the arrangements.

The August meeting will also be in the form of a picnic.

Sedlove-Kulich Announcement

Announcement is made by Frank Sedlove, of 509 Galbraith avenue, of the marriage of his daughter Anna, to Michael Kulich, son of Mrs. Mary Dorel of Electric street.

The ceremony was an event of September 12, 1932 and took place at the Beaver Court house.

The groom is a graduate of the local Senior High School with the class of '28.

Mr. and Mrs. Kulich will reside at the home of the brides parents for the present.

The annual picnic for the Theta-Nu-Club will be held Saturday at Cascade Park. Dinner is to be served in the grove at 6 o'clock and families of the members are to be special guests.

EDELSTEINS WILL HAVE RECEPTION

Harry Edelstein and family, 136 East Wallace avenue will be at home to relatives and friends Sunday evening July 16 from 9 to 12 to honor Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cohen, New York City.

Mrs. Cohen will be remembered as Miss Shirley Edelstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edelstein. No cards are being sent.

St. Vitus Auxiliary

The Knights of St. Vitus Auxiliary held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the club rooms on Maitland street. Two new members were taken in, Mary Macchia and Mrs. Lena Vercilli.

Plans were made for a moonlight supper to be held on Thursday July 20 at 8 o'clock in the grove of Cascade Park. Mrs. Elizabeth Cacco will be in charge.

Games and dancing occupied the remaining hours. At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Helen Bongivengo, Clara Natale, Sue Claffi, Marie Augustine and Julia Claffi.

New officers named were Mary Porfio as recording secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth Sacco, trustee.

Ninth Birthday

Mrs. John R. Flynn of 837 Franklin avenue, entertained ten boy friends of her son, John R. Flynn Jr., on Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock in honor of his ninth birthday. Games were the chief diversions of the occasion and the honor guest was the recipient of many nice gifts. At a seasonable hour, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Paul Pander.

Family Dinner

William T. Butz was guest of honor or last evening at a six o'clock dinner held at the home of his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Butz of Sumner avenue. Dinner was served on the lawn of the home and the guests of the occasion were immediate members of family of Mr. Butz, the guest of honor. The affair was in honor of the eighteenth birthday of the honor guest.

Party For Husband

Mrs. Ellis McCracken, Huron avenue, entertained a group of friends Tuesday evening in honor of her husband, the date being the anniversary of his birth.

The evening was spent at games, dancing and music by Eddie Brown, after which a delicious lunch was served.

The honored one received some lovely gifts.

Mothers' Class Picnic

Twenty five members of the Mothers' class of the Primitive Methodist church journeyed to Cascade park Tuesday evening for a picnic supper.

A short business meeting featured the after dinner hour and it was decided to dispense with the August meeting. The evening hours were spent enjoying the park.

THEN AND NOW

It has not been so very many months since Democratic leaders of all ranks and degrees were throwing up their hands in holy horror because cabinet members were taking an active hand in politics. Impropriety and neglect of their official duties were among the less serious charges made.

All cabinet members at that time, however, were Republicans. Therein lay the crime.

We have yet to hear or read the first Democratic criticism of Mr. Farley, postmaster general in the Roosevelt administration, for his political activities. He is the boss politician of the administration.

In addition to being postmaster general he is chairman of the Democratic national executive committee. Being head of the party organization and a member of the cabinet and possessing the full confidence of his chief, he is in an excellent position to keep patronage oil applied to the party machinery at points where it is most needed and will do the most good.

But not even this duty along with those connected with his official position are enough to keep him occupied. He finds plenty of time to make a speech here and there where a little encouragement seems to be needed. Recently he found occasion to address a meeting of Michigan Democrats.

"We must in every state do our best to build up strong, active and cohesive party organizations that will function," he told his hearers. He expressed the wish to see Michigan made "one of the strongholds of Democracy," and he urged state leaders to "insure Michigan being permanently Democratic."

It is not hard to picture him, after his formal address, closeted with state party chiefs and getting suggestions as to how much patronage would be needed to strengthen the party in the way he had urged. And it is not improbable that the postmaster general may have examined the lists of appointive offices made available in the emergency legislative program recently enacted by congress in order to show the Michigan leaders just what they might expect.

But those Democrats who were condemning the same thing a short while ago see no harm in it now. The Democrats are in power.

HAZARDS AFOOT

Pedestrian deaths in 1932 were 44 per cent of all deaths due to automobile accidents. There were 12,770 foot travelers killed out of a total of 29,000 automobile accident deaths in the United States. This fact appears in an analysis by Maxwell Halsey, Traffic Engineer of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Mr. Halsey finds four chief facts in pedestrian accident problems:

1. Auto-pedestrian accidents are only 5 per cent less than auto-auto accidents.
2. The pedestrian is almost twice as likely to be killed as the motorist.
3. Only 25 per cent of all accidents occur outside of cities or towns, but they are responsible for more than 50 per cent of all deaths.
4. Accidents to pedestrians walking along rural highways are at least four times as fatal as any other type of accident.

The following are the chief danger points to pedestrians: Narrow roads; black pavement that offers less contrast to the pedestrian and requires greater illumination; cuts through hills, fills and curves; recreation and refreshment locations where parked cars interfere with pedestrian visibility; schools, factories, parks, etc., where pedestrians walk on or cross highways; vehicles passing vehicles; "thumping," where pedestrians stand on edge of road to attract attention; roadway laborers inadequately protected by signs; glaring lights; wet pavement.

Pedestrians should walk single file facing oncoming traffic; avoid blind spots; get out of the way of meeting or passing cars; wear light colored clothing at night or carry a reflecting device. The motorists, in turn, should know that pedestrians are not entirely visible at night. They should avoid the extreme edge of the road and sound their horns for any pedestrian situation that seems doubtful. Street lighting, wide sidewalks and traffic signals should be provided.

States without laws prohibiting hitch-hiking, or laws requiring pedestrians to walk to the left facing traffic, should pass them. These are constructive suggestions and should be seriously considered by all intelligent persons.

WORLD-WIDE IMPROVEMENT

The world economic conference seems doomed to break up in confusion and ill-feeling, and hopes fall in many countries. Yet discerning men may see realization of their hopes.

The conference, born from despair, was called to improve general business conditions. And even should those delegations go home sadly in apparent defeat, the big thing they sought may be in process of accomplishment. Business is improving! Walter Lippmann wrote in the New York Herald-Tribune, as they began leaving London:

"It must be realized that except among public men who have a political stake in the conference, and among economists and financiers who are shocked by the American financial heresies, the underlying sentiment here is one of genuine hopefulness that a world recovery has actually begun. Men are not waiting for the conference to save them. The recovery has been proceeding while the conference has been wrangling, and it is on the economic facts rather than upon conference resolutions and declarations that men's interest everywhere is centered. World prices, and not merely American prices, are rising, and men all over Europe as well as in America are beginning to go back to work.

Possibly America, even while other countries raged against her, started this world revival. Or it may be chance or fate or Providence. At any rate, the obvious policy of wisdom is for every country to interfere with it as little as possible in its early stages, and then seek measures of rational control if it seems to be going beyond safe bounds.

That expression of frozen horror slowly extending over the map of Europe is caused by the realization that Uncle Sam is a sucker no longer.

France, the nation that vociferously defends the gold standard, would like to pay the interest on her war debt but cannot because she needs the gold.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

MAKING US OVER

We can't help it, we say. This is our disposition, this is our way of doing things, and we can do no differently. . . . We were born this way, and though we struggle and contrive, we can never get away from the people we are.

Yes, there's truth in that. We must accept it. We cannot get away from the selves that we are. . . . Some of us are explosive. Some of us are mild as rabbits. . . . Some of us make up our minds with lightning speed. Some of us wait and ponder, weigh and determine, and thus arrive at decisions. And, odd enough, the ponderers are not always wiser than the hair-trigger people.

Some of us have violent tempers and hold no grudges. Some of us are slow to wrath and sluggish in forgiveness. . . . Some dream dreams, and others add two and two to arrive at a realistic four.

Some are happy whatever may happen, and others distill but little joy out of the days and the years. Some think a man's business is to conquer, and others to understand.

Some think of themselves, others sharpen themselves to fight for the world. . . . Some love strawberries, some can't eat 'em. Some are thick, some are thin. Some are pleasant to behold, but alas, there are others who resemble the mud fences of our fathers.

Yes, there are plenty of differences among the children of man, and a man will change but little from the cradle to the grave. As he was born, tempered by environment, so he will remain all the days of his life.

But this no excuse for what we do. . . . We cannot get away from ourselves, but we can work with that fellow we know best of all—encourage him, stimulate him, cuff him and temper him and shape him into something stronger and finer and more decent than he would have been. We are his friend, and we are also the enemy of his meaner self. So we can take the barbarism out of him and civilize him a bit and make him over. That's what we can do. That's our real job as long as the breath comes in and out of us.

PESSIMISTIC TALKERS

Too many persons who are not hard pressed financially, accept every opportunity to tell of their "straitened circumstances."

Many who never purchased a bond or owned stocks in their lives, tell you how they have sustained due to a dropping market value.

Conditions seem to provide these people with an excuse for not paying debts and allow them to create an impression that they have been losers in the stock market.

To be sure incomes have decreased in the past two years and much hardship has resulted.

But if only those who have really suffered and have not had enough to meet every day expenses complained, the adverse sentiment which has so much to do with present conditions, would not exist to the present extent.

Less complaining would make for quicker recovery.

A lot of you fellows have not suffered from lack of necessities.

You have had to cut down on your expenses in lavish entertaining, yes.

But your cuts have had to be only in matters of personal pleasure.

Quit your pessimistic talk—all that has happened to you is a reduction in the speed by which your bank accounts have increased.

I watched the people on the beach at play.

All strong with youth and health and unafraid.

And as enraptured by the sight, I stayed.

It seemed to me the world was far away—

The world of drab, dark duty, day by day.

Of honest man and thief, profession and trade.

Grief and despair, with fortune lost or made.

Had ceased to be, as in God's time it may.

Blue waters kissed a golden patch of care.

A few bright acres all unknown to care.

Lovers were romping gayly, hand in hand.

Not one of all the throng that gathered there.

Seemed bothered by doubts he could not understand.

Or fretted burdens difficult to bear.

Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth.—Proverbs 24:17.

LOWER POSTAGE

You can now mail a letter in the city of New Castle to be delivered in the city, for two cents, that's a saving of one cent, and though not much, our guess is that there will be an increase in revenue from that source. A lot of people rebelled over the three-cent postage for "drop" letters. Many who mailed checks to utility companies, paid cash at the offices, and merchants paid cash to salesmen. They didn't like the idea, as they expressed it, of "being held up." From a business standpoint it don't pay to extract the last cent for anything.

Lindbergh Gift For Children Wins Thanks And Sympathy

Public Shares Sorrow Produced By Tragedy Associated With Family Estate And Appreciates Great Benefits To Be Conferred

Public knowledge of a generous benefaction by Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh has come through the filing of papers which indicate that the family home near Hopewell, N. J., is to be made into a children's welfare center. The whole country has felt great sorrow at the tragedy in this home, and voices appreciation of the public use to which it is to be put. It is declared that the institution, to all Americans, will be a memorial.

"Sorrow produced by the tragic event cannot be erased," says the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "but it can be sweetened, and what more promising way is there than to bring happiness into the lives of other children? What more beautiful monument could be built to the son so cruelly snatched from them than this living memorial, designed to protect little ones against sickness and unhappiness? From the top of Sourland Mountains will glow a perpetual light of kindness and graciousness."

"The disposition they have chosen to make of the property," declares the DES MOINES TRIBUNE, "is so public spirited and evinces so delicate a sense of the appropriate as to deserve highest praise."

THE SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE avers that "a sad memory will always cling to the home that the most famous of young Americans built for his bride, and yet something of the best of humanity will be represented there, too. From here, the spirit of the paper, a great good will spring. The tragedy of the Lindbergh child will give birth to joy for many more fortunate children. Hopewell is well named."

"The whole country is deeply moved," asserts the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE. "The child welfare center will be known as 'High Fields' and is to be in the charge of a non-profit corporation with an expert board of trustees, which has been chosen. That an exceedingly useful institution has thus silently and modestly been set up may be taken for granted. But it is for the beauty of the thought—the rightness of the plan as a symbol, as a memorial and as a dedication—that fathers and mothers and children throughout the country will cherish the news. Years pass, but memory fades not. The country cannot forget either the tragedy of those tense days or the courage and the nobility with which they were faced by the two whom they hit hardest. Now, in the project of High Fields, the one appropriate and enduring memorial is provided, and the country will doubly approve. For it will not wish to forget."

THE NASHVILLE BANNER believes that "for the people generally the home will always suggest tragedy of the deepest sort." Of the details of the project, The Banner records: "It will be opened to both boys and girls. The trustees named for the institution, include men of a wide range of abilities. Col. Judge Reader To Speed Arguments On New Rail Line

Will Start Night Court At Beaver, As Pennsy Fights Coal Company

NEW TESTIMONY IS INTRODUCED

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., July 12.—In an effort to speed completion of the civil action brought by the Pennsylvania Railroad against the Pittsburgh Coal Company in its fight to prevent construction of a 13-mile rail link between the Mahoning Valley and Ohio river, Judge Frank E. Reader today ordered night sessions of court.

They will begin tonight. Navigability of Little Beaver Creek was the target of expert testimony introduced by the Pennsylvania Railroad counsel to show that the line is being constructed for interstate commerce and not for private use as the coal company maintains.

New Testimony
Testimony showing that the Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad, a Pennsylvania subsidiary, owns 400 feet of land on either bank of Little Beaver Creek was received by the court to bolster the complainant's allegation that no other concern may use the stream.

Coal company counsel contend the federal government has declared the creek a navigable stream. It proposes to send barges of coal down the Ohio river to Smiths Ferry where a rail-river loading station is being constructed, load the cargoes on railroad cars and transport them to the steel mills in the Mahoning Valley.

The coal company's railroad is being constructed from Negley, O., near the steel region, to Smiths Ferry at the mouth of the creek.

Racket Warfare Is Resumed In Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bomb Blast Is Reported In Rear Of Home In "Strip District"

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 12.—Racket warfare was renewed here today as police reported a bomb blast in the rear of the home of Joseph Bajoras in the "Strip" district.

The explosion was the second to occur within six months on the premises, authorities said. No one was injured in the blast which shook the district and shattered windows in homes and industrial plants near the scene. Similar damage was done by a blast on February 17, according to police records, but no one was injured.

MODEL BAKERY CAKES WIN FIRST PRIZE

Competing with the best bakers in Northwestern Pennsylvania, the Model Baking Company of New Castle demonstrated its craftsmanship in cake making during the convention of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Bakers at Conneaut Lake, and won two first prizes. There were only two other first prizes awarded in a field of forty seven which indicates the high standard of Model Baking products.

The competition divided into two classes, wholesale and retail. In the retail class, prizes were offered for the best Angel Food, Chocolate Layer, White Layer and Yellow Sponge cakes. The Model Baking Company won the unanimous verdict of the judges for the best Chocolate Layer and the best Yellow Sponge Cake. The prize winning cakes will be duplicated for the trade and are on sale now. The Model Bakery is located on West Long Avenue.

Five In Russia Are Sentenced To Be Executed

Six Others In Gigantic Plot Against Industry Are Given Stiff Prison Terms

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, July 12.—Convicted of one of the most shocking crimes against the Soviet regime, five men were sentenced to death in the Moscow city court today and six others to prison terms ranging from 18 months to eight years.

They were accused of having deliberately supplied restaurants in great factories with food containing ground glass, tacks, rope, hair, sand and bits of wire in an effort to arouse discontent among the workers and discredit the government. Their most ingenious scheme, the prosecution declared, was to have men connected with their organization obtain employment in factory restaurants as cooks and then proceed for more than a year to ruin the workers' stomachs by gradually introducing foreign elements into the food.

Monday evening an unusually large crowd attended the tent services at the Union Baptist church and heard Rev. C. D. Henderson deliver a stirring address on "Why a Bad Housekeeper Can't Go to Heaven" and he said "A good housekeeper is never content to get dirt out of sight, but out of the house; sin must not be swept under, but out."

This evening he will speak on "When Jesus Met a Crazy Man—What Happened."

Deny Reports Of Low Wages At Aluminum Plant

Witness Also Denies That Women Are Supplanting Men At Plant

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 12.—A wrangle over identification of the holder of controlling interest in the Aluminum Corporation of America featured today's session of the Gallagher commission which yesterday heard testimony of sweatshop conditions in Pittsburgh and today heard employers in rebuttal and denial of that testimony.
During the testimony of W. G. White, official of the Aluminum corporation, Clarence Moser, member of the committee, asked White who controlled the concern.
"I can't answer that," replied White.
Senator G. Mason Owlett, commission chairman, interposed: "I'm not going to make a sensation here for the benefit of the newspapers."
Moser retorted: "I'm not here for Andy Mellon, Joe Grundy or any other."
White testified that assertions by former employees of the company concerning low wages were inaccurate in many respects. He denied that women were supplanting men.
Other employers testified in like vein, in sharp contrast to tales of low wages and poor conditions related by witnesses yesterday.

Hope To Keep Trees Alive

Residents Asked To Water Trees Which Are Not Doing Well

Members of the Shade Tree Commission, Mrs. Nell Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Ina Eckenrode and Mrs. Florence Pearson today turned their attention toward saving trees in New Castle, especially in the demonstration lanes, Englewood and Fairmont avenues and also Addis street and Huron avenue.

The trees in Englewood and Fairmont avenues were planted by the city some time ago.

Some of the trees have not done very well.

Pending an inspection by a forester have appealed to the residents to water the trees.

The same practice is asked in Addis street and Huron avenue and the trees in the four thoroughfares will be sprayed by the city.

The commission also requested residents to trim trees where they interfere with the passage of an automobile or a pedestrian. There are trees the branches of which hang too near the carway and the sidewalk.

Thrills Await Girl Scouts Of New Gypsy Unit

Older Girl Scouts At Camp Next Month To Have Gypsy Trip To Akron

Multifold thrills await the New Castle Girl Scouts who have earned their rights to be members of the Gypsy Unit at camp next month.

The Gypsy Unit is something altogether new to the local Girl Scout organization although it is rapidly becoming a popular camp feature in many parts of the United States.

Mrs. W. H. Hanger, camp chairman, announces today that Miss Audrielle Lynch, of Sayre, Pa., and Miss Lucille McGuire, of Mahoningtown, will be the counselors in charge of the unit. The camp committee rightly feels very pleased at being able to have Miss Lynch with them from across the state. She is known by some of the local Girl Scout council members and comes highly recommended.

Here are some important earfuls in regard to the Gypsies:

They must be second class scouts, (some are first class); they must have had their "pioneer" training and passed their pioneer and cooking tests. Local girls who will be in this select group are Beatrice Conner, Donna Jean Beall, Betty Bridenbaugh and Helen Gotjen.

They will have their own tents in a segregated part of Camp Phillips. They will do their own cooking and camp chores. They will have the charge of the planning of the trip to the Akron Girl Scout camp which is to be such a popular feature of the second week. That is, they will plan their meals, supplies, etc.

This unit will be in Camp Phillips the entire first week (August 1 to 7). On Monday or Tuesday of the second week they will take down their tents and pack them on a truck along with the necessary luggage. Off they will go by automobile for Akron. Upon arriving at the Akron camp they will pitch tents, settle themselves and spend three days taking part in the activities there.

They will do their own cooking. A swimming counselor will probably accompany them along with Misses Lynch and McGuire although several of the girls are Junior Life Savers.

Returning to Camp Phillips they will put up their tents again and conclude the two weeks period.

Pulaski Mineral Springs Revived

Group Of New Castle And Youngstown Men Organize New Enterprise

Pulaski mineral springs, at Pulaski, on the Shenango river, famous for half a century, are to become widely known through the efforts of a group of New Castle and Youngstown men, who have organized the Pulaski Mineral Springs Company, which has been incorporated to carry on the business.

A building 40x60 feet has been erected on the site of the former plant operated at the springs, and modern machinery, electrically driven, installed. Ten men will be employed at the plant and a truck delivery system will be maintained.

Among the men affiliated with the company are Carl E. Yacoll, Youngstown, president; A. C. Foringer, New Castle, general manager and secretary-treasurer, and Roy Stewart, New Castle, vice president.

Hold Blacksmith For Grand Jury

Following a hearing before Alderman James C. Brice, Tuesday night, Edward Hofmeister was held for the September grand jury on a charge of malicious mischief to cattle. The case arose out of a horse that Misses Black took to Hofmeister to be shod.

The horse was fractious and Hofmeister shackled it, throwing the horse to the ground. During the operation the horse died and Black claims there was unnecessary force used. Hofmeister claims that he did not treat the horse brutally and that death came from other causes. After hearing the evidence Alderman Brice held Hofmeister for the grand jury.

Pastor Known By Local Welsh Dies

Rev. T. S. Evans, Pittsburgh, Passes Away—Other Notes By Brython

(By WILLIAM A. JOHNS) (BRYTHON)

News comes of the death of Rev. T. S. Evans, pastor of the Chatham Street Baptist church of Pittsburgh. He was well known to the Welsh people of New Castle and at one time the Emmanuel Baptist church thought of him as a prospective pastor of the church. He was buried last Saturday at Freedom, N. Y. Our friend, Griffith Thomas, Park avenue, is preaching at the church twice a month on Sunday mornings.

A beautiful and interesting service was held at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening when the pulpit was occupied by Griffith Thomas, Mrs. Richard T. Morris gave a beautiful solo. In the audience were Rev. Emrys Thomas and his wife from Gomer, O., and former pastor of the Emmanuel church.

J. P. Shaddick of Florida, uncle of

Mr. Shaddick, the New Castle plumber, has passed away at his home. He was a foreman at the Braddock steel mill for many years before going to Florida, and he was well known to the Welsh people of this country and of Wales.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Evans of Morgantown, W. Va., and Rees James of Ellwood City, Mr. Walters and Mrs. Davies of Sharon have returned home after attending the funeral of the late William W. Francis of Edgewood avenue. Also the three sons of the late Thomas Francis, William, Tom and Glyn Francis and their families have returned home.

Health Officer Examines Water

Dr. W. L. Steen, health officer for the city said that during the past 30 days he has examined samples of water taken from 31 wells and springs. Ten of them were closed owing to the condition of the water.

At a ceremony shortly after noon Alderman Green united Miss Louise G. Humphrey and Paul Onasch, both of this city, in marriage. The couple will reside here.

Nature Helping Roosevelt With Recovery Plans

President Aided By Nature
In Plans To Reduce Important Crops

WEATHER MOST UNFAVORABLE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Nature coming to the aid of President Roosevelt in his campaign to reduce production of some of the country's important crops, latest reports to the crop reporting board indicated today.

The board characterized the first six months of this year as being less favorable for crop production than the corresponding portion of any crop season in 50 years.

The estimates indicate that even with average weather during the remainder of the growing season the wheat crop will be the smallest in this country since 1893. It probably will amount to about 495,681,000 bushels.

Corn Falls Below.
Corn production seems likely to fall below 2,400,000,000 bushels for the fourth time in 32 years. Oats production, which has exceeded a billion bushels every year since 1911, seems likely to fall below 700,000,000 bushels for the first time since 1897.

Hay production is expected to be almost as low as in the drought years of 1930 and 1931. These crops, with cotton, for which the board has not estimated production, cover about 300,000,000 acres or about 86 per cent of the acreage of all field crops this season.

Cotton acreage is up several million acres above last year's plantings, and a plan to plow under 11,000,000 acres is now under way by the administration in order to save the south from overproduction with a consequent low price for the commodity.

This new idea of using "Stop" in a telegram makes it sound like an old-fashioned girl on a moonlight buggy ride.

Georgia Beauty With Circus Here Saturday

Good horses and pretty girls are prominently displayed in the program of the big Sparks managed Downie Bros. circus which comes here for matinee and night performances on the Mahoning avenue grounds Saturday.

Appearing in person will be Jack Hoxie, famous western screen star, who, with his leading lady of the films, Miss Dixie Starr, and a company of Hollywood players, present in the circus performance scenes from some of his screen thrillers. Hoxie is one of the foremost of cowboy film players and recently finished a series of six talkies, coming direct to the circus from the Hollywood lots. Sharing stellar honors will be the famous Hanneford family of riders with George, the riding clown, as well as hosts of other well known celebrities of the sawdust and spangled world.

Colorful opening and closing spectacles have again taken their place in the circus program and those of the 1933 Downie Bros. circus are said to be the most elaborate ever offered by the veteran Sparks.

The revival of the street parade has proven a popular move on the part of the circus management and the attraction is scheduled to leave the circus grounds here at 11:30 a. m. on show day.

FORESTERS ENTER TROUT RUN WOODS

Local Corps Cuts Fire Line Up
Mountainside—Work Six-
Hour Days

By TOM CRENNEY, JR.
(Special To The News)
CAMP NO. 126, CIVILIAN CON-SERVATION CORPS, TROUT
RUN, Pa., July 12.—Work in the forests about this mountain camp commenced in earnest when 150 boys were detailed to the hills in and about this region last Thursday. Tramping into the thickly wooded sections with an axe, brush axe or cross-cut saws over their shoulders, the New Castle woodsmen got the first real taste of their forestry service. Along with the foresters went water boys who pushed along two gallon-capacity barrels.

The nature of the work consists of cutting a fire line up and down the mountain. The fire line is approximately 20 feet wide. After the line is cut, paths will be constructed so that one may make a quick trip to the mountain top.

The boys ride trucks to work each morning, taking dinner at the bottom of the mountain in the same style they do in camp.

Exactly six hours are spent in forest work, counting off the time spent going to and returning from the mountain work.

Work at the camp is in charge of John C. Mueller, assistant to State Forester V. Schultz and Superintendent - in-charge Frank Clark. Twelve other foreman supervise the work in the forests.

Briefs Of Interest

The first New Castle visitors here were Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Round. Both Mr. and Mrs. Round were highly pleased with the camp and the progress the local boys are making. Mrs. Round presented the fellows with a small package, each containing two packs of cigarettes. The boys appreciated the gift.

Each boy in camp wears a number. Ralph Brooks, the lucky boy, has "13."

Johnny Hogue's hair is growing in fast. He will have to cut it over again.

Sergeant Gavaghan is pleased with the showing of the baseball team. They have won two games already. Just the other day a supply of baseball bats, catching outfits, bases, gloves and other equipment arrived.

Former Local Man Dies In California

Henry Bonna, Former Local Grocer, Passes Away In Western Hospital

Henry Bonna, one of the former leading grocers of New Castle who had been in business for many years on Long avenue before leaving for California 23 years ago, passed away on July 1 at the Santa Fe hospital, Los Angeles, Cal., according to word received here. He was conducting a grocery store in California up until the time of his death.

He had submitted to an operation on one of his legs in which the limb was amputated above the knee. He had suffered from a bone infection for several years.

Mr. Bonna was born in Wales 70 years ago. When in New Castle he was a faithful member of the Emmanuel Baptist church and of the church choir. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Ada Bonna, one son, David L. Bonna at Long Beach, two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Asher Beverly Hills and Mrs. Winifred Lindsley, of Hollywood, a niece, Mrs. Pete Smith, of Garden Grove, David Phillips, of East Reynolds street, New Castle, is a brother-in-law. Funeral services were held July 3.

Milk Production Report For State

Agriculture Department Makes Report On Production Of Pennsylvania Cows

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—On June first, Pennsylvania cows surveyed by the agriculture department were yielding an average of 19.8 pounds of milk per cow per day.

This Pennsylvania average was considerably higher than the national average of only 16.57 pounds of milk per cow. Only eight states had higher averages of production.

The Pennsylvania average milk production, however, showed a decline from previous years. The average per cow per day in the state had been 20.4 pounds of milk in 1932, 20.6 pounds in 1931, and 20.6 pounds over the six year average period, 1925-30.

Anniversary At Epworth Church

Moving Pictures Will Be Shown
Of The Cornerstone Laying Of Church Edifice

The second anniversary of the dedication of the Epworth M. E. church is being observed this week with a service this evening at 8 o'clock and another Friday evening.

This evening George T. Weingartner will speak on "Why We Built the New Epworth Church" and Robert Withers, a member of the old Grace church, which united with the Epworth, will bring a short story concerning that church and its relation to Epworth. Mr. Cottrell, or Rev. J. L. Petrie, a former pastor of Grace church, will preach a short sermon.

The young people's choir, under the direction of Don Potter, will give several musical numbers.

The special features for Friday evening will be special music directed by C. P. Reynolds, director of the senior choir, and a sermon by Dr. C. G. Farr, followed by motion pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rantz, showing the cornerstone laying exercises of the new Epworth.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell, D. D., pastor of the church during its building program, will be the speaker next Sunday evening and the Croton avenue church will join in this service, the pastor, Rev. C. S. Joshua, delivering a brief address.

Warn On Raises In Bread Prices

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 12.—A warning that the federal government will not tolerate unwarranted hikes in bread prices was spread throughout the land today by mayors of 94 cities.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace sent telegrams to the mayors asking their cooperation in the government's efforts to protect consumers.

Committee Finds That Girls And Women Replace The Skilled Workmen At Low Wages

CONDITIONS TO BE CORRECTED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 12.—Members of the Gallagher investigating commission, including Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, reconvened their hearings today with testimony of "free work," illegal overtime, low wages and poor working conditions already spread upon the record.

The most salient testimony yet adduced, overshadowing all other phases of the hearings in Pittsburgh, is that highly-skilled workmen formerly employed at good wages have been replaced by women and girls who receive but a small fraction of the former wage rate for men.

Thus, a furniture company is paying girls $10 a week for work for which men workers once received $12.50 an hour.

A dairy company pays girls $12 a week. Male employees, now displaced, used to receive $25 to $29 a week for the same work.

The Aluminum Company of America paid $1.10 to a woman who cleaned more than 40,000 coffee pots in nine hours.

A beauty shop paid $4 a week to a cashier for 11 hours work a day. The shop supplied a water cooler—but made the employees pay for the ice.

A five-and-ten-cent store laid girls off for one day and "docked" the day from their wages when they failed to meet an arbitrary sales quota.

Meanwhile, threats of reprisal by employers if employees appeared to testify were prevalent. In this connection, Evelyn M. Hughes, state labor department investigator, remarked:

"We thought the Pennsylvania Dutch country would present the greatest obstacle in this line, but it cannot compare with Pittsburgh."

Burning Flares To Warn Motorists Of Stranded Vehicles

Red, Yellow Lights To Glare When Trucks Stall; Becomes New Law

Bright red and yellow flares, the kind you see along railroad tracks, will probably make their appearance along Pennsylvania's highways after September 1 as a result of a law enacted by state authorities at the last legislative session.

The flares, according to the new law must be lighted when commercial trucks and motor buses become stranded on the roads at night. The measure was approved in the interests of safety.

Each truck and bus will be required to have at least two flares on hand at all times.

"Whenever any such vehicle" the law reads, "becomes disabled while within the limits of the traveled part of a highway to such extent that it cannot proceed under its own power and its lighting is so disabled that it constitutes a menace to other vehicular traffic the operator thereof shall cause to be continuously displayed on the surface of the highway the red or yellow burning danger or caution signals hereinafter required in such manner as to prevent personal injuries, loss of life and damage to property by collision."

PLAN FOR TRI-COUNTY CELEBRATION HERE

Name Round To Head Armistice Day Celebration

L. B. Round Is Selected As Chairman For Tri-County Observance Here

PLANS FOR EVENT WILL START SOON

At a meeting of the joint committee of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power Company, was named general chairman for the Tri-County Armistice Day celebration, which will be held in this city, November 11.

It is expected that Chairman Round will call an organization meeting in the near future, when committee chairman to handle the various activities will be selected, and detailed plans for the celebration will be drawn up.

Mr. Round served as chairman of the Armistice Day committee three years ago, and the event was one of the most successful held in the district since its inception.

World War veterans from Mercer and Butler counties will join the veterans from Lawrence County in celebrating the event, and a program of activities which will occupy the day will be mapped out.

Ambridge Bans Sunday Movies

Charge Prices Boosted And Small Percentage Given To Charity

(International News Service) AMBRIDGE, Pa., July 12.—Sunday movies were banned in Ambridge by City Council today following receipt of letters of protest from four pastors.

The complaints declared that churches, for whom the benefits were being shown on Sunday, received little or no percentage of the proceeds.

Police committee members who had been instructed to investigate the Sunday movies reported that theaters boosted their prices from 30 to 40 cents on Sunday, then reserved 25 per cent of their revenue for charity.

One movie, it was charged, has turned over nothing to this cause for eight weeks.

Eighty-Five At Picnic Tuesday Near Harlansburg

Look-Out Class And Families Have Gathering At Rambler's Rest

What was certainly the most enjoyable and probably the largest picnic ever given by the Look Out class, a lively organization of the Mahoning Methodist church, took place on Tuesday evening at Rambler's Rest along the beautiful Slippery Rock creek.

Eighty-five members and their families were there and at 6 o'clock daylight savings time were seated at long tables where plates were anchored to the table with piles of delicious picnic foods arranged in the good old fashioned style. The menu was varied and there was plenty of everything.

Games were enjoyed afterward, with the children's prizes going to Bobby Mauck and Jean Crepps, while the adult prizes were won by Mrs. Mae Logan and Omer Mauck.

Four special guests were present—Miss Helen Knight of Cumberland, Md., Miss Kathleen Wilson of West Virginia, Mrs. C. E. Teets of New Castle and Miss Margaret Bookamer of Ellwood City.

The refreshments committee consisted of Mrs. Mabel Stump, Mrs. Iva Wilson and Mrs. Mae Logan. The sports were in charge of Mrs. Florence Mauck and Mrs. LaRue King. Mrs. Margaret Shanafelt and Mrs. Bertha Kerr efficiently took care of the transportation situation.

B. W. R. GATHERING

Mrs. W. G. Sapper and Mrs. R. C. Solomon were hostesses to the B. W. R. club at the home of the former on West Clayton street Tuesday evening.

The hostesses served a delicious lunch. The hours were spent socially, with the club prize being awarded to Mrs. H. H. McCombs.

Three special guests, Mrs. Dorothy Simkins, Mrs. Hazel Grimm and Dorothy Hackett, were present.

A ham fry was planned for next Tuesday evening at Cascade park, with husbands as guests.

The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Sam Taylor, North Ashland avenue, the date to be announced later.

Boots Digs Hole Like Ground Mole

Underground Home Much Cooler, Is Belief Of Local Spitz Dog

"Boots", the Spitz dog owned by Harvey Dungan of this city, is sacrificing some of that whiteness inherited from a long line of proud ancestors from Eskimo-land—but then, he is making up for it in comfort. After all, it is a lot hotter here than it is in Alaska, or Greenland, or wherever Spitz dogs are supposed to have originated.

For awhile Boots loafed around with tongue hanging prostrate, hopping for cooler weather. It didn't come and he couldn't take off the white fur coat and hang it in the closet. Something had to be done; he did it. He got busy and dug a deep hole in the ground, and ever since has been living as the groundhog lives, just coming up to the hot and bothered world for meals and after the sun has gone to bed.

A regular meeting of Mabel Wilson auxiliary will take place Thursday evening at Malta hall.

HAVE HAMBURG FRY

Seventeen members of the D. C. S. class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church went to Cottage Grove Tuesday evening and enjoyed a hamburger fry at the cottage where the Westminster Guild girls are spending a two weeks' period. The appetizing menu was served at the cottage.

Fishing, tennis and swimming were some of the pastimes proving amusing to the group of young men and women.

M. E. G. AUXILIARY
Mrs. Herman E. Alexander entertained the M. E. G. Auxiliary of the local Presbyterian church at her home on West Cherry street Tuesday evening.

"Stewardship" was the topic and was led by Mrs. F. W. Guy and Mrs. E. O. Farver. Roll call had been answered by a verse of scripture beginning with the letter "C."

Special guests were Mrs. Galbreath and Miss Margaret Guy. A committee was appointed to make plans for a picnic. It is composed of Miss Evelyn Marshall, Mrs. Gilbert Scheidemantle and Mrs. Ruth Campbell.

Butler County Civil War Vet In Auto Wreck

Scott Oakes, 86, Civil War Vet Is Recovering In Butler Hospital

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., July 12.—Scott Oakes, 86-year-old Butler Civil War veteran, was recovering at his home here today following treatment at a local hospital for lacerations suffered in an automobile accident in which three others were seriously injured.

The automobile left the road and overturned several times. Oakes was cut on the hands and face. The others are expected to recover. Oakes was one of the guard of honor at the bier of President Abraham Lincoln when the body lay in state in Washington April 16, 1865.

We always believed those old leaders had to be great to get such a following, and then along comes Hitler.

Movie producers have a theory that public approval of one picture indicates a yearning to see forty more just like it.

Milk-Buttermilk Is Used By Fire Fighters On Home

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 12.—Sweet milk may have its vitamins but it ran a poor second as a fire extinguisher today.

All the milk from the dairy failed to quench a blaze which destroyed the home of Gustave Mosgoes, 13, Springfield farmer.

Buttermilk had much the better record, firemen saved the family automobile by dousing it liberally with buttermilk.

RECEIVE "THE KEY"

The local Business and Professional Women's club members have received their copies of the biennial convention number of the state federation's quarterly publication, "The Key".

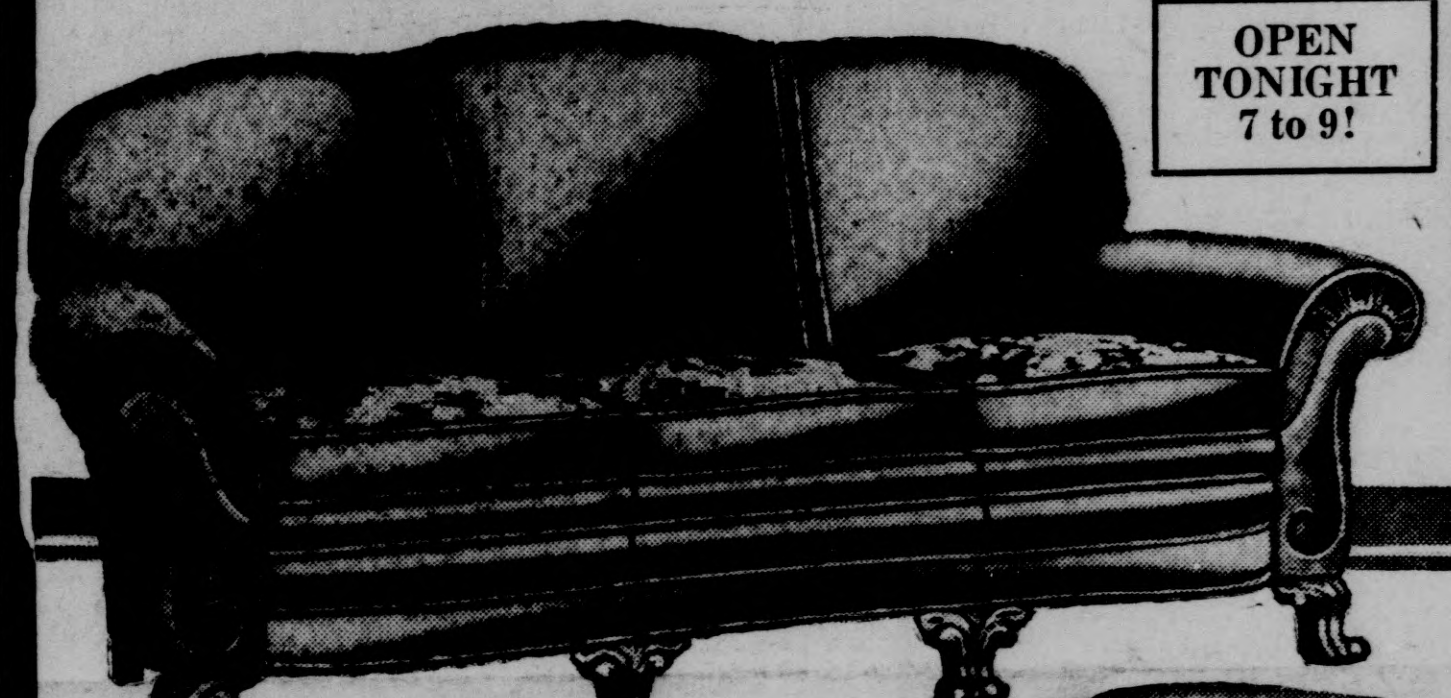

A picture of Miss Nancy E. Bechtol, former president of the New Castle club, and recently elected state treasurer, and a write-up concerning her many splendid activities, is contained on page 8 of the issue.

It is easy to pick a wife who has sense of duty and responsibility. She thinks she smells something burning.

College Student Given Release By Ohio Officials

Officials Convinced That Student Is Telling Truth About Death Of Woman

(International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, O., July 12.—Theodore A. Holmes, 20-year-old college student of Winsted, Conn., who had been held in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Nora Coffey, 24, was released Tuesday by authorities of Greene and Clark counties.

Holmes, who had confessed he was a companion of Mrs. Coffey on a night last May when she was shot, and that he became frightened and threw her body into the Little Miami River, will not be prosecuted, officials said.

Authorities indicated they were willing to accept Holmes claim that the shooting was accidental.

It isn't the speed... it's the RAPIDITY!

To beat all other cars in an Essex Terraplane, you don't have to exceed the speed-limit.

Terraplaning is fast if you want it to be, even up to eighty-five and more. But conservative drivers are so keen about it because it saves the minutes that other cars waste.

You save minutes in every mile of city-traffic by Terraplaning rapidly into the free lane ahead to command the road. You Terraplane quickly around other traffic by a slight pressure on the accelerator without shifting gears. You Terraplane up the steepest hills in high gear without rushing. You Terraplane around curves in safety without cutting down your normal speed.

And you accomplish all this with a smooth lack of haste that has been the dream of motorists ever since the automobile was invented.

Terraplaning is safer because it is more skillful. It is more thrilling because it is so much easier. Try it, and see.

Herman J. Goldberg Named Commissioner

Governor Pinchot Appoints Wilkes-Barre Attorney As New P. S. C. Member

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 12.—Herman J. Goldberg, a deputy attorney general from Wilkes-Barre, became a public service commissioner Tuesday, filling the vacancy created by the ouster of Dr. Clyde L. King.

Secretary of the commonwealth Richard J. Beamish administered the oath of office to Goldberg in the presence of Gov. Gifford Pinchot in the commission offices. His term will expire on June 31, 1937.

Correct This Sentence: "I don't know how he learned to lie," said the parent, "for we never have lied to him about anything."

LIBRARY DONORS
Books were donated to the New Castle free public library in June by Mary Logue, Gaylord Bros., Melvin Morrison, Pennsylvania department of internal affairs and the U. S. department of commerce.

You can't work up a world class war while a damned capitalist is easier to bear than a damned foreigner.

The wets rejoice, but the original 13 states don't matter so much as the last 13.

Fourth Game Of Series Thursday

Tigers And Mahoning To Decide First Half Title

GAME TO START AT 6:15 P. M. D. S. T.

Twenty four more hours and either the Tigers or the Mahoning A. A. will own the championship for the first half of the Lawrence County Twilight Baseball league.

They're docketed to clash at 6:15 p. m. D. S. T., Thursday at the Centennial field and expectations are that there'll be about 5,000 fans inside the ball yard.

The last time out the champions of the two divisions in the Lawrence loop played to a five-five deadlock. It was to have been the grand finale of the first half but it wasn't.

The managers sent Paul McCullough to hurl for the Tigers and Steve Hutnic for the Mahoning and judging from what happened in their last encounter, they'll do the hurling honors tomorrow.

The championship series started June 30 and the results of the games are as follows: first, Tigers 6, Mahoning 5; second, Mahoning 5, Tigers 0; and third game, Tigers 5, Mahoning 5.

Big Crowd At Game
In the first game Mahoning appeared so much duck soup for the Tigers until the Bengals cracked in the sixth inning. In the second, well, it was all Mahoning.

Yes, folks, Mahoning, with Hutnic on the mound, sort of made a run-away out of the first frame, getting four innings. They added another in the third and won easily.

But that third game, wow! With the biggest crowd that ever jammed Centennial field, McCullough started for the Bengals and Hutnic took up the hurling duty for the Mahoning A. A.

Nick Caney and his crew came through with one run in the first and added another in the fourth. The Tigers clawed three runs in the fifth and two more in the seventh.

Right here it may be said that had this gone the twilight distance of seven frames, the Tigers would have had the title but the managers agreed to a nine innings affair.

Mahoning Halted
So just to show the fans and the Tigers that Mahoning could go the limit and not crack, even though things looked dark, Mahoning came through with three runs and dead-locked the score.

At the end of the ninth inning the curtain of darkness made it extremely dangerous for a batter to face a pitcher and the umpires terminated the game.

Going out of the ball yard the fans praised Paul McCullough and Steve Hutnic, likewise C. Perretti. They said Mac pitched splendid ball and deserved to win.

Other fans pointed out that Steve Hutnic pitched a consistent game but had been hurt by a line drive which affected his pitching in the seventh. He retired later.

The Tigers cracked in the eighth and their brand of baseball was not any too smart with the result that before the season was over Mahoning scored thrice and the game was deadlocked.

That tilt being history, the players are keyed up for the final Thursday and if there isn't a crowd of at least several thousand, Messrs Caney and Fuller are far from good guessers.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Central Press Association

ALEX. MORRISON says: Too often do you grunt, lunge with your body and jab the club at the ball only to learn that your swing is without power. Unfortunately, you discover this lack of power only after your club has started forward in the downswing, too late to do anything about it. In a properly made swing the power is developed during the wind-up or backswing and the downswing or unwinding merely serves to transmit this power into the shot. Therefore, check over what you do in your backswing. Chances are you do like most players, lift your arms outward from your body instead of keeping them in close and making your body windup and thereby fill out your backswing.

Three Couples Tie In Tuesday Night Field Club Event

Large Group Participate In The Week Golf Event At The Field Club

An unusually large group of golf enthusiasts of the New Castle Field Club participated Tuesday evening in the week competition for men and women of the club, who are followers of the sport.

A mixed fourball blind bogey event was held with the numbers between 70 and 82 and the number drawn being 74. The participants drew for their respective partners in the event.

Three of the couples in the winners group had the number drawn, winning first position in the event, and dividing the honors three ways. Winners in the event were as follows:

FREDDIE MILLER WINS BY KAYOE
(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, national boxing association featherweight champion, knocked out Able Israel, Seattle in the fourth round of a scheduled 15 round bout here last night.

Israel claimed he had been fouled in the third round and was given a six minute rest before continuing after promoters had announced that he would not accept the title on a foul.

Universals And Grays To Clash

Good Game Is Expected At 6:30 P. M. At Centennial Field

GRAYS HAVE VERY GOOD BALL CLUB

With five straight victories to their credit, the Universal Sanitary baseball team will be after their sixth win today at Centennial field when the local independent club opposes the Homestead Grays. The game starts promptly at 6:30 p. m. D. S. T.

Fans will see one of the best independent teams in the district when they watch the Grays in action. J. Williams and Washington are two of the outstanding players on the Homestead roster. Harris, Binder, Brown, Evans and Gaston are several other clouters on the visitors team. Monday night the Grays added the McKees Rocks nine to their victory list, 11-5.

If the Universals continue to play the same brand of ball they have been playing the past week the locals should put up a stiff struggle. Gus Thompson, manager of the "Us" feels confident that his club will register a triumph over the famous colored combination. His selection on the mound will probably be Paul McCullough, former Toledo and Minneapolis hurler.

The local manager has saver McCullough for this contest. Should Thompson change his mind, Lowers or Shaffer will be the starting pitcher. The Universals have several heavy clouters on their club. Gek Byak, Mickey Huff, Russo and Nick Blomdi will match the Homestead hitters. Byak and Huff have hit five homers between them in the past week. Last week Byak lifted the ball over the right field wall. The hit proved one of the longest on record here.

The game should prove one of the best contests so far this season. Umpire Charles Gillum will show play ball at 6:30 o'clock, fast time.

Mushball League Managers To Meet

A meeting of the managers of the east side mushball league will be held tonight at 9 o'clock at the "Y" with a lot of importance business to be taken up for discussion. Adopting of the 1933 schedule will be part of the business. The second league games will be played Friday night.

In 'Big League' Town
The Senators dropped another, the Chicago White Sox applying the crusher, 9 to 3. Swanson got a triple, double and two singles as the alabasters collected 16 hits off Crowder, Russo and Weaver.

Chicago's Cubs thundered from behind to set back Brooklyn 6 to 2, the victory regaining the Bruins third place in the National League. The Dodgers cracked wide open in the eighth, allowing Chicago to score all its runs. Root held the flat-bushers to seven hits.

Pitcher Roy MacFay issued seven walks, but Fox and Bishop got three hits each and the Athletics won other Cleveland, 6 to 4.

Bob Weiland registered a pitching duel triumph over Vic Frasier as Boston's Red Sox set back Detroit, 2 to 1. Boston won in the fourth when Walters, rookie third baseman, walked and scored on Cooke's double.

Pirates Beaten
Zachary held the Pirates to eight well-spaced safeties, the Boston Braves rolling it away, 5 to 3. It was Boston's fourth straight win.

Hurst tripled in the eleventh to end a hurling battle between Hansen and Johnson, Philadelphia running over the Cincinnati Reds, 2 to 1. The Red's failure tumbled them into the basement.

Burgess Will Be Given Hearing
(International News Service)
AMBRIDGE, Pa., July 12.—Preliminary hearing of fraudulent conversion charges against Burgess J. Caul of Ambridge will be held Friday. It was announced here today.

Caul is charged with misappropriating $359.50.

"You are charged with selling adulterated milk," said the judge. "I plead not guilty. Your Honor," answered the culprit.

But the testimony shows that the milk you sold was 25 per cent water.

"Then it must be a very high grade milk, sir. You will find the definition of milk says it is 80 to 90 per cent water—I should have sold that milk for cream."

Pitcher Jackie Mitchell, the girl pitcher who fanned both Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig during an exhibition game a year ago between the New York Yankees and Chattanooga Southern association team, is now playing baseball in a big league town if not with a big league club. She has signed to play semi-professional baseball in a Philadelphia twilight league.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

All of the Lawrence county league teams have strengthened their lineups. There were four games scheduled yesterday. Box scores turned in by three scorers show good games. Cannon will pitch for Bessemer. Gall and Cannon were Tigers. There have been changes on other county teams.

Carolyn Babcock, Los Angeles, seeded first, gained in the third round of the women's invitation singles net tournament at the Longwood club, Chestnut Hill, Mass., by a straight sets win over Claire Smith, Branford, Conn., 6-2, 6-3.

Giants Beaten In Comedy Of Errors

Travis Jackson, Giant Shortstop, Makes Glaring Error And Cards Win

DIZZY DEAN IS IN FINE SHAPE

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 12.—They say the man has swollen feet and it isn't fair to kick a man when he's down, but the fact remains that as a shortstop Travis Jackson is somewhat of a stepchild.

He booted the ball again yesterday to send the New York Giants into a seventh-inning collapse which wound up with the St. Louis Cardinals scoring a couple of runs and winning the ball game 2 to 1.

It was all very dramatic, the Giant pitcher better than the seventh time or better that Mt. Jackson recently has been tried and found wanting, giving rise to the notion that catching baseballs with the feet naturally brings about a swollen condition. Anyway, the loss was the seventh straight for Charles A. Stoneham's club, putting the skidding Giants only two and one-half games ahead of the on-rushing Cardinals in the National League derby.

Too Many Errors
Dizzy Dean, the winning hurler, pitched nice ball but he allowed ten hits, which was four more than Roy Parmelee gave the Cards. Indeed, it was all very painful, with Jackson coming along to contribute still another error and Terry, Mancuso and Parmelee himself throwing in an error each for a perfect day.

Mr. Stoneham, having gone by plane to St. Louis to see about this sad shortstop business, alone showed good judgment among the Giant personnel. He heard the heat too great to come out to the ball park.

Tony Lazzeri and Dixie Walker cracked homers and the battle-torn New York Yankees downed the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4. Vernon Gomez was a factor, saving the situation in the eighth after MacFayden blew up and filled the bases.

The Yankees are now only two games behind the league-leading Washington Senators.

Senators Slipping
The Senators dropped another, the Chicago White Sox applying the crusher, 9 to 3. Swanson got a triple, double and two singles as the alabasters collected 16 hits off Crowder, Russo and Weaver.

Chicago's Cubs thundered from behind to set back Brooklyn 6 to 2, the victory regaining the Bruins third place in the National League. The Dodgers cracked wide open in the eighth, allowing Chicago to score all its runs. Root held the flat-bushers to seven hits.

"ANOTHER SLUMP"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 12.—The stock market today turned into a stock market in quieter trading as the dollar lost part of yesterday's recovery and grains were under profit-taking pressure.

Liquor issues continued to feature, rising 2 to 4 points on the Oklahoma beer victory. Other outstanding issues were Celanese, International Silver, Auburn, Consolidated Gas, United Aircraft, Standard Brands and Commercial Solvents.

Rails and industrials met further profit-taking but the fresh gains in business provided support. Steel and power production along with railroad traffic advanced to new highs for the recovery.

Sterling rose 7 cents to $4.71 as other foreign currencies regained part of the ground lost yesterday. Grains showed losses running to a cent a bushel and more on profit-taking induced by the record-breaking rise of the last 2 days. Cotton dropped 50 cents a bale. Bonds were irregular.

Union Pacific was the weak spot in the rails, opening 5 points lower. It came back somewhat later. Atchafalaya also was heavy but met support on the decline.

Tractions were run up on revival of unification rumors. Strength in silver was behind the run-up in International Silver and other miners of the white metal.

United Aircraft was stimulated by the expectation the company would announce the retirement of another block of preferred stock this afternoon. The other aviation shares were higher in sympathy.

The alcohol stocks were the pacemakers in the "wet" group. The new rise in steel production aided the steel shares, with U. S. Steel a firm spot.

Standard Brands was easily the most active stock on the list and was taken to a new high in enormous dealings which monopolized the tape. Matheson Alkali was a strong specialty and the whole chemical group strengthened on the advance in Nitrate of Soda prices.

Trading started off active with the ticker behind but subsided later though a few issues continued to be churned over in big volume.

Russian Airman Offers To

Where He Will Get
New Plane

PLAN TO SALVAGE
WRECKED PLANE

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, July 12.—If present plans are carried out, James J. Mattern, American round the world aviator, will arrive in Nome, Alaska, next Sunday to meet Bill Alexander pilot of the New York Evening Journal rescue expedition, with whom he will fly back to the United States.

This program developed today following receipt of a message from Kharbarovsk, Siberia, revealing pilot Levansky, Soviet airman commissioned by his government to fly Mattern to Nome, would not reach the American at Anadir until Friday night.

Levansky was quoted as saying it would take him 24 hours to make the Nome flight from Anadir, a perilous one across the Bering sea and the Bering straits. It was presumed he would take off with Mattern Saturday morning, and arrive in Nome the following morning.

The Soviet pilot said he would offer to take the instrument board from Mattern's wrecked "Century of Progress" and any parts of the motor the American desired to salvage. Mattern has indicated he believes none of the rest of the plane was in good enough condition to take out of the wilderness in which he crashed.

BULGARIA A HAVEN FOR OUSTED RUMANIAN JEWS

(International News Service)
KAPTHIK, Bulgaria.—Generous land grants, free transportation of persons and household goods, and ten years' immunity from taxation have been offered to Jews expelled from Rumania by this community.

Most of the immigrants are coming from Sarata, in the Kishineff district of Rumanian Bessarabia, formerly Russian territory. Under czarist rule pogroms in that region were fairly frequent.

Bulgarians and Jews, however, have on the whole managed to live peaceably side by side, even in the old days of Turkish domination.

Soup Heiress Goes to Court Again

Life is just one court appearance after another for Charlotte Dorrance, heiress to soup-made fortune of her late father, Dr. J. T. Dorrance. First, there was presentation at King George's court in London. Then there was the court battle over New Jersey's claim to a $16,000,000 inheritance tax, based on its claim that Dr. Dorrance had his legal residence in that state instead of Pennsylvania, where $14,000,000 tax was paid. Latest, was the court visit following a raid on a Philadelphia apartment in which she was one of 19 socialites seized. She was speedily released from jail after spending half the night there, when her identity became known. She is shown in court dress.

Another Wage Dispute
Ties Up Post Office Work

All craft union men and common labor left the job at the new post office Tuesday afternoon, as a means of getting an adjustment of the wage scale which has been hanging fire since last April. It is stated. Except for Engineer Murphy, Superintendent Englebrecht and several laborers who came here from Detroit, with the A. W. Kutsche Company, the job is a near standstill.

Back in April the men walked off the job and Miss M. Emmiline Pitt, U. S. Labor Conciliator came to New Castle for several conferences. Thomas Finn of the Labor Department at Washington also came to New Castle and it was thought that an agreement had been reached. Now it appears that there has been some misunderstanding.

At that time the argument was that common labor was to get 40 cents per hour and carpenters 90 cents. They were and are being paid 35 and 75 respectively. It is related. Representatives of the carpenters say that the agreement was that they were to return to work at 75 cents per hour pending arbitration and that the rate decided upon was to be retroactive to April 25.

Hearing nothing of the outcome of the arbitration, the carpenter representatives wrote to Washington recently and report they were informed by the Department of Labor that nothing had been done and that it was their understanding that the A. W. Kutsche Company was paying the wage scale agreed upon. Another reason for the controversy concerns the use of a crane operator. Representatives of the union engineers assert that the present operator is non-union. Still another point of dispute concerns the iron workers and laying up of stone. There is a point at which the iron workers and stone men's work meets and this point is in dispute.

A request has been sent to Washington for an arbitrator and a department of labor representative.

Although workmen have "walked out" on the post office job, George J. Murphy, superintendent-in-charge here for the A. W. Kutsche Company, announced today that "we're going right ahead with the work." Murphy and his building foremen themselves with several assistants, were pouring the last of the first floor concrete today.

Murphy said the carpenters protested about the 75-cents-an-hour wage scale, contending that 90 cents is the prevailing wage. The company was paying 35 cents an hour for common labor and the concrete workers said 40 was the prevailing rate. The concrete mixer engineer, he said, went off duty out of sympathy for the others.

An arbitrator will likely come here from the U. S. Labor department to iron out difficulties.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE ENDORSED

Delegates to the state encampment of the American Legion, which will be held at Philadelphia on August 16, 17, 18 and 19, were named at the meeting of the Perry S. Gaston Post, in the Legion Home last evening. Past Commander Guy J. Wadlinger, and James A. Bell were named to represent the local post.

Ensign Fred Goddard, of the Salvation Army, appeared before the post and asked the support of the organization in the campaign for funds, now being conducted. The post endorsed the drive of the Salvation Army and made a financial pledge.

Harold Blewitt gave an outline of the formation of the baseball team in the American Legion Junior World's Series contest, and urged the support of the post in their coming games, which will be played on Friday of this week at Colonial Field and Friday of next week at Centennial Field, when the Sharon American Legion team will be met.

The matter of chartering a special car to attend the national convention at Chicago was discussed but no definite action was taken in this regard.

Planes And Pilots Decrease In State
Federal Report Shows Decrease In First Six Months Of Present Year

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—The first six months of 1933 witnessed a decline in both licensed airplanes and pilots in Pennsylvania, the aeronautics branch of the commerce department reported today.

On January first, there were 472 licensed planes and 1055 licensed pilots in Pennsylvania. On June first, these numbers had declined to 460 licensed planes and 1009 licensed pilots. Unlicensed aircraft fell from 576 to 542. Gliders dropped from 72 to 49.

Pennsylvania ranked third of the states in the total number of aircraft with 542, California coming first with 972 and New York second with 925. Pennsylvania similarly ranked third in the number of licensed aircraft, with New York first and California second.

Allegheny County Expenditures Will Be Investigated
Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, Says Cost Of Government Is Too Much
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 12.—Charles J. Margiotti, noted attorney, today went on record with the declaration that an appropriation is a necessary prelude to any attempt by a committee to investigate the high cost of government in Allegheny county.

From reports already received, there is every indication that more automobiles will be on the road this season than in the past three years.

Investigators of road-side eating stands are authority for the statement that business in these establishments has markedly increased. All of which is heartening news. However, it would perhaps be well for the average tourist to realize that a journey on a Pennsylvania highway, made as safe as can be done so officially, still demands a reasonable amount of thoughtfulness and care on his part," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"Needless to say, all the warning signs now so generously placed on the main thoroughfares, will be of little avail to the motorist who deliberately disregards them. Personal cooperation is absolutely essential. And by the same token, tourists should exercise a bit of selection regarding their patronage of food stands. The regulations concerning them are exceedingly fair to the owner, though they are designed to protect the public against insanitary and unhealthy practices.

"The point is that no matter how sensible the regulations aim to be, there are yet some operators among the thousands engaged in this field, who consider their obligations too lightly. True, they will clean up for the expected inspection, but shortly thereafter will revert to type, which in some instances does not mean maximum safety for the tourist. It is this minority that needs watching.

"Tourists, therefore, should be reasonably exacting where the road-side eating stand is concerned. One does not need to be unduly inquisitive to determine quite promptly whether or not the ordinary sanitary practices are in force. If a suspicion exists that cleanliness in the preparation of food or in the cooking and eating utensils is lacking, then it perhaps would be better to move on to a stand where due attention to such matters apparently exists.

"Officials can set up regulations, inspectors can investigate, but in the last analysis the continuance of the carelessly operated road-side stand is largely a matter of thoughtful selection on the part of patrons.

"Pennsylvania's highway stands should be 100 per cent safe and clean. While the vast majority, as indicated, now come within that classification, it remains with the public, for its own sake, to compel the others to improve their standards.

"Why not give this suggestion some thought the next time when food and drink are contemplated on the highway?"

If you don't hate an unjust law imposed on the other fellow, you needn't expect sympathy when an unjust wage cut is imposed on you.

Things change little, except that the old-timer who got the fruit of others' toil was called a conqueror instead of a kidnaper.

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., July 12.—Residents of Freeport road and Pine Manor sections have arisen in a storm of protests over the probability of a circus, which plans to pitch its tents on Laboratory field, near their homes.

Allegheny County Expenditures Will Be Investigated
Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, Says Cost Of Government Is Too Much
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 12.—Charles J. Margiotti, noted attorney, today went on record with the declaration that an appropriation is a necessary prelude to any attempt by a committee to investigate the high cost of government in Allegheny county.

From reports already received, there is every indication that more automobiles will be on the road this season than in the past three years.

Investigators of road-side eating stands are authority for the statement that business in these establishments has markedly increased. All of which is heartening news. However, it would perhaps be well for the average tourist to realize that a journey on a Pennsylvania highway, made as safe as can be done so officially, still demands a reasonable amount of thoughtfulness and care on his part," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"Needless to say, all the warning signs now so generously placed on the main thoroughfares, will be of little avail to the motorist who deliberately disregards them. Personal cooperation is absolutely essential. And by the same token, tourists should exercise a bit of selection regarding their patronage of food stands. The regulations concerning them are exceedingly fair to the owner, though they are designed to protect the public against insanitary and unhealthy practices.

"The point is that no matter how sensible the regulations aim to be, there are yet some operators among the thousands engaged in this field, who consider their obligations too lightly. True, they will clean up for the expected inspection, but shortly thereafter will revert to type, which in some instances does not mean maximum safety for the tourist. It is this minority that needs watching.

"Tourists, therefore, should be reasonably exacting where the road-side eating stand is concerned. One does not need to be unduly inquisitive to determine quite promptly whether or not the ordinary sanitary practices are in force. If a suspicion exists that cleanliness in the preparation of food or in the cooking and eating utensils is lacking, then it perhaps would be better to move on to a stand where due attention to such matters apparently exists.

"Officials can set up regulations, inspectors can investigate, but in the last analysis the continuance of the carelessly operated road-side stand is largely a matter of thoughtful selection on the part of patrons.

"Pennsylvania's highway stands should be 100 per cent safe and clean. While the vast majority, as indicated, now come within that classification, it remains with the public, for its own sake, to compel the others to improve their standards.

"Why not give this suggestion some thought the next time when food and drink are contemplated on the highway?"

If you don't hate an unjust law imposed on the other fellow, you needn't expect sympathy when an unjust wage cut is imposed on you.

Things change little, except that the old-timer who got the fruit of others' toil was called a conqueror instead of a kidnaper.
